March 2016

From the President

Hibernation has officially ended! Saturday, March 19, over thirty of your neighbors were found in Mesa Luna enjoying good company, eating tasty food, and -- for the more courageous -- trying to remember those special dance moves while swaying to their favorite hits of the last five decades as rendered by the pop/rock trio MD2. A good time appeared to be had by all.

Yes, spring has sprung, as witnessed by the daffodils at the entrance gate and the crocuses here, there, and everywhere. Several

And what about the North Beach?

The "cliff" at the North Beach is as high and straight as most remember around here, 17-18 feet at its highest! Winter wind and waves have ripped it to be that way, and nothing can stop them.

Plus, the water is up, up. Residents who trace this kind of phenomenon see the high level of water as part of "the 30-year homeowners have stolen a march on the season with already well-advanced home remodeling projects. While another blizzard cannot be ruled out statistically, change is definitely in the air.

One positive note is the expected arrival before summer of a modern surveillance camera system for the front gate. Stay tuned.

On a not-so-positive note, North Beach is in danger of being renamed North Cliff! Let's hope the spring storms bring back some of the sand the winter storms took away. All sand donations gratefully accepted!

I regret to inform you that we will soon be losing our wonderful renters of the Community House apartment, the Bolinders, as they are buying a home nearby. That will result in an empty unit and a meaningful loss of cash flow in terms of rent. Your Board will be discussing possible options and your input is always welcome.

cycle," one that lasts a few years.

We have pulled out 12-15 posts and taken them up the hill, to save them from being taken out to sea. Some were a few inches from the edge of the cliff. And Friday's hard wind and waves took out another 8-10 inches of the cliff, and a few posts that were still there!

Now, hopefully, spring winds and waves will bring back some of the sand they stole and throw it back on the beach to give us some room. And we will wait until mid-May to see if there is a place for posts.

In the meantime, there is room to walk the beaches. And be nice to your Middle and South Beach friends. You may be wanting to share their space. :-)

Dinner down the street!

Cod or chicken but mostly conversation and fun at Mesa Luna event. Saturday, March 19. About 40 residents-friends were there.

Next social is Saturday evening, April 23, evening again.

And Summerfest is August 6 and 7!

And our spring Town Meeting at the playground is Saturday, May 28, 10:00 a.m.

And Annual Meeting and Grill on the Green are Saturday, August 27. (Just trying to rush the season!)
